Frosty the Snowman was a jolly happy soul.
With the corn cob pipe and a button nose
and two eyes made out of coal.

Frosty the Snowman was a fairytale they say.

He was made of snow, but the children
know how he came to life one day.

There must've been some magic in that old silk hat they found.

For when they place it on his head he began to dance around.

Frosty the Snowman was alive as he could be.

All the children say he could laugh and play
just the same as you and me.

Frosty the Snowman knew the sun was hot
that day.

So, he said, "Let's run and will have some fun now before I melt away."

Down to the village with a broomstick in his hand.

Running here and there all around the square saying, "catch me if you can."

He led them down the streets of town right
through a traffic cop.

And he only paused a moment when he heard him holler stop!

For Frosty the Snowman had to hurry on his way.

But he waved goodbye saying, "don't you cry, I'll be back again someday."

Curled up snug in your waterbed.

brown fawn and the rain kissed black trees
